Help Us Keep The Elephants Alive!

Dear Supporters and Interested parties,

We have literally been abuzz with many aspects related to the bees. As a consequence this newsletter has a focus on bees. In the words of Jonathan Swift, they do fill our world with the two noblest of things, which are sweetness and light. If you then add to the mix their interaction with elephants and how we can potentially use this to modify elephant behaviour, you have nothing short of some bush magic. Enjoy the read as our story unfolds with the Elephants, Trees and Bees! Please don't forget to come and support our cause by sharing a dinner with Dr. Iain Douglas-Hamilton.

Elephant hugs,

Dr. Michelle Henley
Director and Principal Researcher, Elephants Alive

Dinner with Iain Douglas Hamilton

Elephants, Bees, Socks and SPLAT!

Elephants Alive's research has successfully demonstrated that elephants avoid trees that have a bee hive hung in them. But what is it about the bees that is causing the elephants to steer clear? Our studies continue with the next phase of bee research... Read more

553,648 views for Elephants Alive video!

We are honoured and thrilled that Beautiful News has featured Elephants Alive's researcher, Ronny Makukule. Their videos feature inspirational South Africans doing good things.

New Bee Hive Manual

Thanks to sponsorship from Kiss Me Organics, Elephants Alive has produced a Bee Hive Manual, for local landowners and reserve managers who would like to install their own bee hives to protect iconic trees. If you would like to download a free copy, see LINK or contact info2u@elephantsalive.org

APNR 10 Year Contract

The humble roots of our work, planted in the Associated Private Nature Reserves (APNR) more than 20 years ago, have spread like the movements of the collared elephants across the vast landscape of Great Limpopo National Park. Read more

Global Networks

The Elephants Alive research team have been building elephant partnerships around the world, participating in the Savanna Science Network Meeting in Kruger and an elephant workshop in Germany discussing "The Conservation Applications of Elephant Research". Read more

Elephants, Bees, Trees & People

Our mission is to ensure the survival of elephants and their habitats and to promote harmonious co-existence between man and elephants.
